

LOCAL OFFER: INDIVIDUAL SETTING / SCHOOL / COLLEGE INFORMATION

What is the local offer?

The Government plans, through the Children and Families Bill, to require all local authorities to publish, in one place, information about provision they expect to be available in their area for children and young people from 0 to 25 who have special educational needs – a local offer.

The local offer must include both local provision and provision outside the local area that the local authority expects is likely to be used by children and young people with SEN for whom they are responsible, including relevant regional or national specialist provision. As well as providing clear, comprehensive and accessible information about the support and opportunities that are available, the local offer should make provision more responsive to local needs and aspirations by directly involving children and young people with SEN, parents and carers, and service providers in its development and review.

Clause 30 of the Children and Families Bill gives details of the duty on local authorities to develop, publish and review their local offer. Further detail about what is required is given in indicative draft regulations, whilst guidance on carrying out the statutory duty is given in the indicative draft Special Educational Needs Code of Practice.

With the implementation of the Schools Funding Reform (April 2013) work has been on-going to develop the wider Schools Local Offer, which covers the universal banded funding approach (SEN Matrix) the authority has agreed. This sets out what schools and settings are expected to deliver for their high needs pupils and students through funding elements 1 and 2, and following robust evidence that these elements are insufficient to meet the pupil or student's needs and explanation of element 3 (top up funding) provided by the authority.

As well as setting out the provision the local authority expects to be available in early years settings, schools and post 16 institutions the local offer should make clear where information provided by schools (under Clause 64 of the Children and Families Bill) about their arrangements for identifying, assessing and making provision for children and young people can be found.

*Subject to Parliamentary approval of provisions in the Children and Families Bill, it is intended that implementation of the SEND reforms will take effect from September 2014.

Ashmore Park Nursery School Local Offer

1) Assessment, Targets & Review

Details of how children and young people's special educational needs are identified.

Details of how parents and carers are informed that their child has special educational needs, including how the school communicates with parents and carers in particular parents and carers whose first language is not English.

How are children's special educational needs identified?

We believe in working in partnership with parents and carers and this relationship begins with visits by families to the nursery and a home visit by staff to the child's home. There is an evening meeting for parents and carers to come into nursery to complete all the relevant admissions paperwork, become familiar with the learning environment and meet the senior leadership team. There is an opportunity to discuss any concerns parents may have about their child before they start nursery school.

All parents are asked to complete a "Finding Out About Me" booklet, which helps create a picture of the individual child and help the child's key worker discover the uniqueness of each child.

Parents and children are invited to a series of shorter induction visits so that children can build up familiarity with their key worker and the learning environment. These visits are also key to developing relationships between the children, key worker and parents. Finding out what children already know and can do is discovered through observation, which occurs during the first couple of weeks at school. This knowledge of the child is then used to help the key worker plan and support the child to learn. The curriculum the school offers has been constructed to reflect the context of Ashmore Park Nursery school. If initial observations identify a concern with a child's overall development, the SENCO will be consulted and a meeting with parents arranged.

	What children have learnt is reflected upon each half term and parent partnership meetings are held each term, including as a settling in meeting in the first half term in nursery. Children's learning is shared with parents at these meetings and how they can help at home. Parents of Children with additional needs will also meet for TAC (Team around the child) meetings each term. This school has a Special Educational Needs Coordinator who is responsible for the coordination of support for children with SEN. How will I be informed my child has SEN if I don't communicate in English? We use ICT applications such as Google translate to communicate with families whose first language is not English.
Details of how children and young people's special educational needs are assessed. Details of how progress is measured and evaluated.	All children are assessed within four weeks of starting nursery school. This allows the key worker to gather a broad range of information about individual children in order to plan effectively for them to learn. This process of assessment is ongoing and parents are kept informed about their child's learning through the Microsoft TEAMS app and during parent meetings. Staff meet each half term to discuss what children have learnt and plan how best to support children who may need more time to gain skills and knowledge. If staff in consultation with the SENCO continue to have concerns about a child's learning and development, then with agreement from parents/carers we will look into the reasons for this and with parental permission may call on specialist advisors as required. Speech and language development may also be assessed at this time and a referral made. If children are identified as having additional needs then a SEND support plan will be constructed. The plan will be created with specialists, if necessary. The SEND support plan will have termly targets, the conditions required for teaching and specific strategies that are needed to support

	learning, as well as an agreed review date included in the plan. Progress of children will be measured against the set SEND support plan and reviewed within an agreed time scale. Where appropriate, support is requested from relevant outside agencies. When outside agencies are, involved close liaison is maintained and parents are kept informed.
Details of how children and young people's special educational needs are monitored and reviewed. Details of how often monitoring and reviews take place.	How will my child's needs be monitored and reviewed and how will this take place? Children with identified SEND will be monitored regularly by the key worker/person working on targets and this information is fed back termly in discussions with parents/carers usually in a review meeting. New targets will be set with parents/carers, key people from agencies supporting the development of the child. What happens if/when...my child is not achieving their support plan? The SEND support plan will be reviewed and discussed and reasons why there has been no progress will be raised. An additional meeting may be held before the next review meeting if required or requested by any party. Further advice will be sought by the SENCO from specialists. The Head teacher and/or the SENCO will liaise with the parents/carers to inform them of the concerns and the action being taken to support the child. Parent's thoughts are sought and suggestions made for ways of helping the child at home. The SEND support plan is completed with detailed steps, home action and a review date. My child is achieving their SEND support plan. If a child is achieving their SEND support plan, then to ensure learning is maintained after this period, and development is appropriate for their age, then monitoring may be reduced to a half termly basis to ensure progress continues.

Details of how children and young people's needs are provided for (level of impact / of support) Details of how parents/carers can be involved and how they can support their child. Details of training opportunities/learning events provided by the school for parents/carers. Details of how parents and carers/ children and young people can raise any general concerns they may have.	To provide curriculum access and inclusion we: Support learning for children with SEND within their key worker group where possible. Ensure that all children with SEND take part in all the activities of the school, unless a health and safety issue or a high-risk assessment rating prevents this. Ensure that a differentiated curriculum is offered to children with SEND including - the provision of mechanical aids to support learning, if needed; adaption of materials/resources to meet individual needs. Provide a SEND support plan with appropriate learning steps. When staffing levels allow for smaller group learning this may be available to support a child's learning and emotional well- being. Learning Together sessions are planned throughout the year where parents are invited to come to nursery with their child and take part in a shared activity. How can I be involved in this support? We ensure that all parents are aware of the schools arrangements for SEND through discussions with parents at induction meetings, through regular meetings and through consultations as the needs arise.
